

DISCLAIMER & PRIVACY POLICY

01) Information that you provide to us by filling in forms on the website. This includes both personal information and Sensitive Personal Information including contact information, name, gender, email address, mailing address, phone number, financial information including bank account details, payment instrument details, and terms thereof, if any, unique identifiers including user name, account number, password and personal preferences including favorites lists, transaction history, and investment preference.

02) Alphacapitalpvtltd.com, which is operated by Alpha Capital Private Limited, is not an advisor and does not give recommendations to buy any stock from our website, Alphacapitalpvtltd.com. Buyers and sellers should consult their financial/legal advisors before buying unlisted securities at Alpha Capital Private Limited and Alphacapitalpvtltd.com website.

03) Alpha Capital Private Limited is not responsible for any loss arising out of unlisted shares. Alphacapitalpvtltd.com is NOT a stock exchange recognized by the Securities Exchange Board of India (SEBI) under the Securities Contract (Regulation) Act, 1956.

04) Alphacapitalpvtltd.com does not allow any secondary market trading of securities on the platform.

05) You as a buyer or seller understand and confirm that you fully understand the features and risks of buying unlisted shares from platforms such as Alpha Capital owned and operated by Alpha Capital Private Limited.

06) You as a buyer or seller also confirm that you are neither being influenced nor given any assurance of fixed returns arising out of investments in unlisted shares by employees, associates, partners, representatives, or relationship managers of Alpha Capital Private Limited.

07) You as a buyer or seller also confirm that Alpha Capital Private Limited firm is not responsible for any loss arising out of investment in unlisted shares.

08) You as a buyer or seller fully understand that investing in unlisted shares/securities is not suitable for all investors. An investment in unlisted company's securities is highly speculative and involves a high degree of risk and should only be considered a long-term investment and only after consulting your investment advisor.

09) You as a buyer or seller understand that after buying unlisted shares, you may withstand the risk of total loss of investment as unlisted company's securities are also highly illiquid and there is no guarantee that a market will develop for such securities.

10) You as a buyer or seller fully understand that each investment in unlisted shares also carries its own specific risks and you should complete your own independent due diligence regarding the investment, including obtaining additional information about the company, opinions, financial projections, and legal or other investment advice.

11) You as a buyer or seller fully also understand that investing in unlisted company securities is appropriate only for those investors who can tolerate a high degree of risk and do not require a liquid investment.

12) Our job at Alpha Capital is to connect a Buyer/Seller (Investor or may be Broker sometimes) to the best and TRUSTED seller/buyer (may be Broker also). We neither transfer shares/payment to any Buyer/Seller or nor accept any payment/shares from Investor in our Alpha Capital's Bank/Demat Account. Because we're connected with multiple brokers across India, there may be a chance that you'll get a different broker's bank account for the same/different deals on different/same day.

13) You as a buyer or seller declare to face any legal consequences arising out of this for non-compliance. Alpha Capital Private Limited always ensures that they never let brokers to transfer shares in the third-party account.

14) You as a buyer or seller declare and confirm to complying with all laws and regulations set up by SEBI, RBI, FEMA ACT, Companies Act 2013, or any Indian relevant acts or laws with regards to buying of unlisted shares in India. And in the event of violation of any laws, you will be held responsible for any legal consequences.

15) Alpha Capital Private Limited firm declares that the research reports provided in the whatsapp community are purely for the purpose of educating the client for the prospect of understanding the business model and should not by any means be considered as investment advice. Alpha Capital Private Limited firm does not guarantee the correctness or accuracy of the information provided on our whatsapp community or Website Alphacapitalpvtltd.com. The buyer/seller should do proper due diligence before buying/selling the unlisted shares from the Alphacapitalpvtltd.com or their whatsapp community.